This is an online art gallery to present feminist artists (including graphic artists) in conflict zones whose work is about human rights, especially women's rights. You don't have to be a woman to be feminist, a liberated man will do which is why we will include male artists. This section is continually upgraded.

Please contact us to tell us about other examples you know about: we are looking for risk-taking, militant artists living in conflict zones in order to support them – not for expatriates (as opposed to refugees) expressing themselves abroad in ways they dare not at home.

Gökhan Aslan

Maya Zankoul
 (Http://Womeninwar.Org/Wordpress/All-Project-List/Maya-Zankoul/)

Meet graphic designer Maya Zankoul from Lebanon who uses humour in her graphics to denounce the difficulties and daily upheavals of living in Beirut.

Estayqazat
 (Http://Womeninwar.Org/)

Wordpress/All-Project-List/Estayqazat/)

Estayqazat a feminist collective from Syria who seeks to empower women as individual agents and confront patriarchal prejudice, especially sexuality.

Kubra Khademi (Http://Womeninwar.Org/Wordpress/All-Project-List/Kubra-Khademi/)

Kubra Khademi from Afghanistan, a performance artist who walked the street of Kabul wearing a metal structure which exaggerated breasts and buttock

Shamsia Hassani (Http://Womeninwar.Org/Wordpress/All-Project-List/Shamsia-Hassani/)

Shamsia Hassani, Afghanistan's first and foremost street artist who declared: I want to colour over the bad memories of war

Natalya Dyu (Http://Womeninwar.Org/Wordpress/All-Project-List/Natalya-Dyu/)

Whilst this is not exactly a war-zone, Natalya Dyu's work shows the result on a daily urban and flippant way post-Communist society plunged into Western-style.

Ahmad Qatato (Http://Womeninwar.Org/Wordpress/All-Project-List/Ahmad-Qatato/)

Meet graphic artist Ahmad Qatato from Jordan who launched "The Diary of a Muslim Girl".
